

CRYSTAL HARMONY

Trio Performing on Glasharp, Verrophon & Glass Flute

Crystal Harmony, an ensemble founded in 2001 by three young musicians from far Siberia, Igor Sklyarov, Timofey Vinkovsky and Vladimir Perminov, play unusual musical instruments, made of glass and called the Verrophon, Glasharp and Glass-Flute.

The mysterious, gentle sounds of these crystal instruments allow listeners to experience known melodies in a new fashion. They open secret, unexpected sides of classical musical pieces. Crystal Harmony's repertoire includes variations of popular classical melodies of Mozart, Boccherini, and Vivaldi, and also original pieces written specially for a crystal harmonic.
